

ENGLISH CREAM MINIATURE DACHSHUNDS

Crème of the Crop Dachshunds’ New Puppy Checklist

Congratulations on your new puppy; this is sure to be an exciting time! Education, consistency, and communication are key when it comes to transitioning your new puppy into its new home. It’s very important to be ready before you bring your puppy home! I can not emphasize this enough. Once you choose your new puppy from the litter, you need to immediately start to order the items needed to create the puppy’s safety zone or “Puppy Nursery” as well as stocking up on all the necessary supplies: food and high reward treats, enrichment/socialization supplies, grooming necessities, recommended supplements, appropriate playtime enrichment and agility toys, and other various housekeeping supplies that will be needed to help your puppy minimize the stress and anxiety they will feel when leaving everything that is familiar to the puppy behind.

Your puppy will go into a home where it knows no one, all the smells are strange and different, and the environment is not the same. Leaving their littermates, first people, and the home they know is extremely stressful and causes puppies a lot of anxiety. This Checklist is designed to help your puppy and you make this transition as smooth, easy, and as safe as possible. Our goal is to minimize the stress to both your puppy and for our new Crème of the Crop Dachshunds’ Families.

By purchasing the items needed to prepare your home for your new puppy, you are completing the first step in a successful transition for your puppy and your family! New families are offering their puppy the best start in its new home by having everything the new puppy needs on hand and set up in preparation for the puppy and avoiding major stressors that can be dangerous to the health of the puppy and cause some major behavioral and mental issues later in life due to unnecessarily pushing the puppy past its stress threshold by not bringing the new puppy into a safe new environment to decompress in a healthy way. If we all work together and communicate throughout the transition phase as well as having everything completely ready when your puppy arrives to its new home by having the following necessities purchased and set up before picking up your puppy, we have a healthy and sound new family member for life! Purchasing the items on this list are compulsory to ensuring a home that is equipped to providing the proper socialization, important neurological stimulation, and appropriate agility and physical development for a healthy puppy/dog with a great disposition and temperament by providing a home environment to encourage the wellbeing of each Crème of the Crop Dachshunds’ puppy/dog. Having a completely furnished Puppy Nursery, a stocked pantry full of all the different food and supplements that may be needed, proper interactive, chew, and an assortment of engaging toys, basic grooming necessities, feeding, watering, and treat essentials, assure the proper introduction of the puppy to its new home to ensure your puppy gets the best start to becoming a happy, healthy, lifelong friend and companion for many years to come!

We recommend that you begin purchasing the items from this list when your new puppy is born. Some of the nonperishable items can be purchased after placing your deposit on your new future puppy to spread out the expense and help you find all the items on this list in case some items are currently unavailable. This gives new families time for the items to restock. New puppy families need to have everything purchased and in their home with the puppy nursery completely set up for your new puppy at puppy's six week birthday! We are looking forward to seeing pictures of your new puppy's nursery at this time. If we see any essential items missing, we have time to inform you. This gives you time to get the items there before coming to pick up your new puppy. Remember preparation is one of the vital keys for a smooth, successful transition into your home for your puppy through your puppy's eyes.

The Breeders Bootcamp Masters Class

As a breeder, it's vitally important to continue your education. The partnership with Baxter and Bella is the most recent program that I have used to further my education for my new puppies and our older dogs. I also have had customers call me for advice over the years. I stay up to date on the best resources out there available to Breeders. The Breeders Bootcamp Masters Class has taught me more about new techniques for Early Neurological Stimulation, Early Scent Introduction, appropriate puppy handling, tips to introduce potty training, first meals, weekly grooming, desensitization, puppy problem solving, and puppy frustration challenges that we face as breeders as we raise and care for our babies. This class also offers education and instruction on the known fear phases, how to handle a puppy tantrum, teaching the new please, how to give your puppy a voice, along with the risk vs. reward, building confidence in our puppies, and practice resource guarding. One of the other important topics taught is how to safely socialize our puppies and understand the importance of well-checks and immunizations. I already have a lot of experience about the last, but learning all the new it so essential to what we do here at Crème of the Crop Dachshunds! Lastly, Breeders Bootcamp Masters Class teaches how to educate new puppy families, travel tips, final paperwork, and preparing for our puppies departure. The main focus are the following phases: Neonatal, Transitional, and Socialization.

The Mission of Breeders Bootcamp is to educate owners, breeders, and pet parents to help them foster healthier dogs. Animals don't have the same response to new experiences that we do which is why socialization for puppies is essential. We want our pets to be healthy and happy. They're a part of our lives. Breeders Bootcamp can help us do this in a way that's clear and easy to follow. It's efficient, and it works!

I also highly recommend that our New Puppy Families enroll in the Breeders Bootcamp Masters Class as well. It will teach you how your puppy has been raised and help you to continue using the same training that we use here at Crème of the Crop Dachshunds. Knowledge is power which is so important in the lives our new puppies. We are committed to continuing education!

Crème of the Crop Dachshunds commitment to continuing educations is one of the main reasons our puppies are in such high demand. We pour our hearts and soul into each puppy to get them ready for their new lives. We also try to educate our New Puppy families to set both the puppy and New Families for a successful life. That’s why I’m sharing these two online Training lifetime classes because I truly believe they make a difference and are worth the investment for you and your puppy. Another training that I follow is Puppy Culture. You can find the Workbook on my Amazon list as well. It’s also very informative. These are the three most useful trainings that I believe every breeder and puppy owner should participate by enrolling to educate themselves by going through the training. It will make a huge difference in your life as well as your puppies!

BOTTLED WATER: We have well water, and the puppies will smell chemicals in city water. We recommend that you use bottled water until they are used to different water or continue bottled water for life due to allergies to chemicals in the water.

PUPPY PADS: Your puppy has been puppy pad trained since he/she could get out of bed. Make sure when placing Training Pads in your home that you keep them close by to your puppies view. Given to a large an area to run and play, he/she will become lost to his/her potty spot and likely have an accident. Always make sure the Puppy Training Pad is in his/her sight. I have found more success with Pet All-Star Training Pads XL and Vibrant XXL Training Pads. They cost more, but your puppy will use them. You get what you pay for, and the cheaper pads don’t work. You can order them from Amazon or buy them at Walmart.

PET BEDS: Purchase several pet beds to fit his/her puppy size. I usually have 3 different types of beds along with crate pads to lounge on as they play. Cat beds are fun to hide in as well as tepees. I also provide a calming bed, a regular bed, a pet pawd (in place of a crate because the door attaches to the side, and we never close it. We don’t crate train our puppies/dogs.) Remember that the first thing a puppy will do when they first wake up is to go potty, so keep the pad close. Also, dachshunds love to chew, so check their beds each day for holes and places where the bed stuffing can come out and your puppy/dog can eat it. This can cause an obstruction which will require an expense and serious surgery to save your puppy's/dog's life. Also, remove any toys that are attached to the cat beds because they are not appropriate for puppies and can be swallowed resulting in an obstruction.

We teach our puppies to go to a specific place, like a dog bed, on cue and they are not to get off until they are released with "OK." The "GO TO BED" cue may be used when the doorbell rings to keep your puppy from jumping on guests, during meal when you do not want your puppy begging for food and for office times when you need to get some work done while keeping your puppy within eyesight. Two beds we really like are the Coolaroo Elevated Pet Bed and the Wash N' Zip Pet Bed. The first can be found on Amazon.com. The Wash N' Zip site is <https://washzippetbed.com/>. Use code BAXTER to save 15% off.

NO-PULL HARNESS:

There are products out there designed specifically to help your dog learn not pull on the leash. I recommend trying the attention walk for several weeks or even an entire month prior to resorting to any of these devices. When trained properly, your puppy can learn to walk on a leash using only positive training techniques, including high-value rewards. Although it takes time, it is totally worth it in the end. If your dog already has a habit of pulling, try a No-Pull Freedom Harness. When your dog starts to pull, the harness causes his body to turn back towards you, thus discouraging any further pulling action.

My favorite pet beds and blankets are below:

Bessie and Barnie. I buy small beds and the medium matching blankets. You can design your own color beds and blankets! https://bessieandbarnie.com/products/hybrid-bagelette-bed?_pos=1&_sid=efb9bcf04&_ss=r

TOOTHBRUSH & TOOTHPASTE:

Just like people, canines need their teeth brushed in order to reduce plaque and tartar build-up. Most puppies love liver flavored tooth paste and the finger brush seems to be the easiest method of getting a puppy accustomed to having their teeth cleaned. Start by brushing one tooth, then advance to two teeth and so on day-by-day until you are cleaning them all. Also, let your puppy lick some of the toothpaste from the brush afterwards to create better impressions about it.

FREEZE-DRIED MEAT:

Freeze-dried meat is THE KING OF TREATS for my dogs and I use this for important things like houstraining help. Each time my puppy goes potty on cue when and where I want (YES, I go out with my puppy on a leash EVERY SINGLE TIME) they get one big piece of this stuff (usually I break it into fourths) and it quickly begins to positively reinforce the behavior. In short, this speeds the potty training process up greatly. I only take puppy to our own private fenced in yard a week after its second immunization. If you don't have your own private yard, wait until a week after puppy has had all 4 rounds of immunizations and is fully vaccinated. The risk factor is too great for Parvo!

SOFT-CHEW TRAINING TREATS:

Training treats need to be soft so they can be eaten quickly. You need to be able to give your puppy a cue, reward with a treat and move on to the next one without them stopping to chew a hard biscuit. Save the biscuits to stuff in the Kong toys and invest in some soft palatable treats. Natural Balance Dog Food Roll in the beef flavor is a hit. Red Barn is another good brand. I cut it in small bites that I store in the fridge for daily use with my puppies.

TREAT BAG:

During puppy training, you will want easy access to treats at all times. Put a treat jar by your front door for when visitors come, the back door where you take your puppy out to go potty, on the kitchen table, fireplace mantel and with you either in a half apron, your pockets or other treat pouch. Put the treats in something that attaches to the back of you so your puppy looks at you and not the treat bag, stays in a semi-open position and closes to keep the treats fresh for the next training session.

BENEBONES & NYLABONES:

We give our puppies these to chew on and act as extensions of our hands so the puppy can gnaw on the bones not us. There are several flavors available and puppies are able to chew them for a very long time which saves you time, money and your furniture!

KONG TOYS:

Among my puppy's favorite things to chew is a Kong Wubba toy which squeaks and has flappy ends making it fun to chase. Kong does a good job of creating fun safe chew toys for dogs. The Kong Classic Toy is easy to stuff with kibble, biscuits, peanut butter, cream cheese, liver treats, etc. and keeps your pet busy for hours. I buy the pink or light blue puppy versions until my puppy's adult teeth come in and then I switch them to the red rubber. Kong also makes a black rubber for more aggressive chewers.

ROPE TOYS:

Sometimes puppies want to chew hard things and sometimes they want to chew soft things. Rope toys compliment the bones by giving your puppy a softer alternative. They are also great to give to your kids while playing with the puppy so as to help them from biting pant legs or sleeves - the puppy can grab the rope toy instead. Be sure not to leave your puppy alone with a rope toy though as they can shred it and digest the threads. Use under supervision

PET STAIN REMOVER:

Housetraining takes time and there will unfortunately be accidents... it's not if, but when? Stay calm and simply clean up the mess with a great product such as My Pet Peed. You want to use something that will remove the urine smell completely so your puppy does not return to that spot to go again.

BLACK LIGHT TECHNOLOGY:

We suggest watching your puppy 100% of the time while they are out playing in your home; however, we recognize that sometimes they just get away from us even if just for a moment. Did your puppy go pee in a corner? Tired of getting on your hands and knees to feel around making sure the carpet is dry? You need one of these! I LOVE my blacklight during potty training. Once a week I can quickly scour my floors with the light and spot any mishaps that need cleaning. If anything, it gives me peace of mind that I am doing a good job with housetraining as I often find no mistakes, but it is very helpful for those few times when I find one and want to make sure all the evidence is removed.

POOPER SCOOPER:

It is inevitable that the decision to get a puppy comes with the responsibility of cleaning up after him - so make it simple on yourself with a pooper scooper! The Nature's Miracle Jaw Dog Pooper Scooper makes it quick and easy to collect and clean messes from grassy, rocky or wooded areas and deposit them in your trash receptacle.

POOP BAGS:

Part of being a pet owner is being a responsible one. Always clean up after your pet both in and out of your yard. We recommend keeping a poop bag tied to your leash every time you go on a walk just in case.

POOCHIE BELLS:

I like Poochie Bells™ for my puppy. These bells have two upper bells and two lower bells and nicely accommodate dogs of different sizes. They are loud enough to be heard throughout my house and are built of a very good quality. Likewise, I feel these particular bells look stylish enough to hang on a main door in my home and know they come in a variety of colors too.

STYPTIC POWDER:

This handy powder stops bleeding quickly if you happen to clip your puppy's nails too short. You can also use a home remedy such as: baking soda, flour or cornstarch. Just dip your puppy's nail into the powder and it will clot.

SWEET POTATO CHEWS:

Sweet potato treats are not only delicious to your dog, but healthy too. They come in a dried, jerky-texture form so it entertains your puppy for a few minutes. I like to always have a mix of chews on hand to keep my puppy excited about what he might get next. These are consistently a favorite with my pups.

PUPPY NURSERY/ EXERCISE AREA:

We recommend an exercise area to keep your puppy safe at all times. (www.dog.com “exercise pens”) There are also several different options on my Amazon list or Pet Stores! Puppy Nurseries keep your puppy safe at all times for the first 3 – 4 months until your puppy is fully vaccinated and ready to start working on outside potty training. Buy at least two to three to connect together to allow plenty of room for you and your puppy to lay down fully for play, potty, and running. I recommend a 4 ft. by 6 ft. puppy nursery or larger, but nothing smaller. Please set this up in an area of the home where the puppy is not isolated but can rest quietly when napping. MAKE SURE TO PURCHASE THE PENS THAT ARE 32 INCHES IN HEIGHT AT LEAST. OTHERWISE, YOUR PUPPY WILL JUMP OVER IT AS IT GROWS!

 My all-time favorite play nursery is the clear acrylic panels that you can add more sections to get the size you want from the following website from Clearly Loved Pets!!!

<https://clearlylovedpets.com/>

SMALL FOOD/WATER BOWL: Metal is preferred, but avoid plastic due to bacteria. I wash and clean their water bowls every day!

TOYS: WATCH TOYS WITH PLASTIC FILLING, EYES, ETC. AVOID TOYS THAT HAVE ANYTHING THAT YOUR PUPPY COULD CHEW OFF AND INGEST. PUPPIES HAVE SHARP TEETH AND CAN CHEW THROUGH MANY THINGS. NYLA BONES AND CHONGS MAKE SAFE TOYS. REMOVE ALL TAGS, RIBBONS, ETC. FROM NEW TOYS BEFORE ALLOWING PLAY TIME. AGAIN, YOU DON'T WANT AN OBSTRUCTION SURGERY TO SAVE YOUR PUPPY/DOG!

GROOMING:

Brush/Comb - I like to start with a pin brush as it is gentle enough to start my puppy off on a positive note with grooming, but you will need something for the mats... Your local groomer is a good person to ask for recommendations for your puppy's coat type.

COLLAR: I do NOT recommend any collars due to the choking hazards, but if you decide to use one, NEVER leave the puppy/dog unsupervised while wearing one and see the information below. Your puppy will likely go through several collars before they are full grown, so do not spend too much money initially for this evolving item. If you are going to put one on your puppy/dog, I recommend the Ruffwear collars because they are adjustable, have a separate clip for tags and although they feel light, they are tough. When fitting a collar, you should be able to get no more than two fingers between your puppy and the collar. Check it often as they grow and remember to loosen it as necessary.

CHUCK IT BALL:

Many puppies go nuts for a game of fetch. My dogs absolutely love chasing tennis balls, and I often use the game as motivation during training sessions. After they destroyed one or two, I found these Chuck-It balls which seem to be indestructible! My dogs love these, and I do too! You'll never have to buy another ball again

I will explain how and when you will use the items on this Checklist in the New Parent Section of our website in much detail along with other important information for our new parents! This is a list of the items that are needed so you can start getting everything ready for your new baby. You're first step as a New Puppy Parent is to start ordering the items from this list immediately after selecting your puppy after birth. You will most likely add additional items of your choosing for your new puppy/dog as well! Enjoy preparing for your new puppy and setting up your new nursery as well as puppy proofing your home! Dachshunds bring so much joy and love into your homes and lives. Your baby deserves the best!

You are now a member of our Special “Crème of the Crop Dachshunds” Family. You have a lifetime of love and support for your new puppy. We are always available for questions and concerns of any kind. We do not go away after your puppy is in his/her forever home! We do of course enjoy hearing from you and seeing and receiving photos/videos of your precious puppy to share on our Facebook page, Instagram page, and website!
